

Eco-Friendly Sculpture Garden SPONSORED BY ZUVA GALLERY

The eco-friendliness Fifth Annual Arizona Fine Art EXPO, a production of Thunderbird Artists, has become evident that they have gone green. Not only are the garden attractions eco-friendly but so are many of the sculptures. The Zuva Gallery is sponsoring the two-acre sculpture garden bringing in 25 elegant natural stone sculptures from Africa. The garden attractions are sponsored by Pathways Nursery, such as; Koi pond and water fall, hummingbird and butterfly garden, ancient wall with 200 year old Palace of India doors, roses, birds and more! Pathways Nursery brought in and planted 40 different species of Cacti totaling more than 95. See handsome bridges throughout all sponsored by the Arizona Bridge Company. The Arizona Fine Art EXPO has become one of the valleys most popular and finest 10-week destination places that began January 15th and runs everyday through March 29th, 2009 in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Artists brought in numerous ecological works of art positioned throughout the 2-acres. Patrons adore the peacefulness of strolling throughout the courtyard paths and bridges filled with sculptures of all sizes, even life-sized and monumental. The artists incorporate unique stones, shimmering copper from the mines, powerful strong metals and found objects. Also displayed are charming clays, glistening glass, eloquent bronzes and mixed media sculptures. Patrons love the many serene, whispering sounds of water fountains that grace the pathways, adding that special ambiance that patrons have become accustomed to at Thunderbird Artists' events.

The Arizona Fine Art EXPO has lots of informative and instructional tips for gardeners. Learn about the construction of ponds, caring for Koi fish from a consultant, selecting the right cacti, watching for disease and caring for cacti by a specialist, successfully designing and building a waterfall, the right plants to attract hummingbirds and butterflies to gardens and caring for hummingbirds from the experts themselves.

Attendees can sign up for art classes like batik, painting, porcelain flower making and Japanese gold & silver leafing all offered by participating artists. Check out our website for dates and times of art classes, garden demonstrations, hummingbird, butterfly and desert life teaching sessions, interactions and more at www.ArizonaFineArtEXPO.com.

Judi Combs, CEO of the Arizona Fine Art EXPO states "Whether it's watching the gleaming sparks of hot metals in action, the drama of chiseling raw stones or peacefulness of spreading paint from brush to bare canvas, this is certainly to be an experience to be forever remembered."
